COMMUNICATIONS

Fellow WWII HRS members,

The deadline for declaring candidacy for the position of WWII HRS Vice President was extended to August 7.

The election will commence August 8 lasting two weeks ending on August 22. Only those who are current 2013 members as of Aug 7 will be eligible to vote.

The vote will be conducted on Ballotbin.com as have the last several elections. You will receive an electronic ballot via your email address included on your HRS membership. Several notifications will be sent during the vote as a reminder to vote. No paper ballots will be issued or accepted. The results will be announced August 23. One warning if you click on "opt out of elections" you will be permanently removed any voting on Ballotbin.com with no easy way to add back your voting ability.

Lastly, if anyone has any questions on membership please contact myself, Ron Kapustka, or Eddie Mayton.

Thanks and see you in the field!

Jonathan Stevens

WWII HRS President, acting

WWII HISTORICAL RE-ENACTMENT SOCIETY Inc.

Candidate for HRS Vice President

My name is Michael Kaczorowski and I would like to announce my candidacy for the WWII HRS Vice President position.

I began my adventure with history already as a small child, having my interest in WWII sparked by learning English in Poland from a veteran of the Polish Free Army in the West. I have seen much evidence of WWII growing up in Poland and Germany and heard firsthand accounts from many German and Polish veterans. After arriving in the United States and completing high school I enrolled at North Central College in Naperville Illinois and completed a degree in Political Science and German. During my sophomore year I was exposed to WWII reenacting for the very first time and instantly became heavily involved in it.

Over the past few years I have collected various and numerous militaria, completed a variety of impressions and was able to reenact with many outstanding units portraying the Polish, German, American and British soldier. Two years ago I became a member of the Safety and Authenticity Committee and I also was an interim Edge editor and experienced what it means to work behind its publishing

I always found that the key to a successful and well completed impression was research. This is why so many units within the HRS have been of high quality compared to units in other domestic and foreign reenacting organizations. As years progress the quality of equipment and resources improves and I would like to see this to continue happening in our organization. I would like to not only preserve our already high quality standards but to also see a successful enforcement of them and improvement, in order to keep our organization as the largest, most prosperous and quality in the United States.

I would like to keep an open line of communication between our membership and our Safety and Authenticity Committee and our Board of Directors. Many Society members that know me know that I am a non-confrontational person, and I would like to keep the discussions civil and engaging where at the end of the day everyone can shake their hands and go on back to their normal lives without worries about their hobby. I believe that business in the society should be conducted in a timely manner. HRS membership processing, the review of new charters should all be completed in a time frame that does not involve months at a time. I would like to make a personal promise that I will make sure that especially HRS memberships and cards will be processed in weeks not months.

Lastly I would like to see the HRS as an organization to be more involved in positive promotion of WWII reenacting. As well as an allocation of Society funds that can benefit the Society and the membership base. Protection of our rights as reenactors that concern firearms, since the second amendment is vital to WWII reenacting. Most important of all I would like to see the Society to be more involved in veteran affairs, volunteering or sponsoring veteran organizations, helping those who fought for our freedom, so that today we even have the freedom to reenact.

I see our Society growing not only in numbers but also as an entity. Just like so many of us grow as reenactors, from snotty kids asking a million questions old veterans and other reenactors, to someone who is highly knowledgeable and helpful. So I would like to see our Society be helpful and provide assistance to its membership as well as others outside of the hobby.

Sincerely,
Michael Kaczorowski

WWII HISTORICAL RE-ENACTMENT SOCIETY Inc.

Candidate for HRS Vice President

I am Dan Nichols.

I am taking this opportunity to announce that I am entering my name for the position of Vice President of the Historical Re-enactors Society (HRS). I have been re-enacting for approximately 4 years and in that time I have seen a lot of good things that have and are being done with some things that I feel need to be changed. The HRS is a good organization with great intentions. I feel we need to get back to the purpose of an organization and look out for members and potential members. We as an organization should be supporting all events that are there whether they are HRS events or not. The best way to get membership up is to show all re-enactors we are there for the hobby not selfishness for ourselves. Attending other functions and putting on a professional demeanor is the best way to show who we are and what we are doing. As a member of the HRS at times I have been embarrassed by what some others say and do at events. Just because you set on a board you are not the know all and be all of re-enacting. When you go to events and act this way it reflects on the individual but more importantly it reflects on the HRS.

My goal is to insure that every member of the HRS is treated with respect and all re-enactors no matter what organization they belong to is also treated this way. Every person in this hobby, and it is a hobby, should have the right to attend an event and not be criticized or put down for what they have or have not to wear, eat, play or fire. Some of the hobbyists are in a place in life where money may be tight or have family issues that doesn't allow them to get the most expensive kits out there.

Safety is very important in this hobby. Most of the weapons are real and someone can get hurt badly if they are not careful. We as the HRS must take safety as our number one priority at events. This is also true with individuals who violate the HRS, Event and State rules and laws. One goal is to put together a committee of HRS members from the Law Enforcement community to look at any complaints that might arise at events from undesirables who have made their way into the hobby and continues to violate rules and laws, and recommend actions to the board. This way we can govern ourselves before someone comes in and governs us.

Authenticity is also important to the hobby. Authenticity should also be put in moderation though. As I stated earlier we need to be authentic but within the constraints of economics. Most people in re-enacting stay to the authenticity of their impression. When we do this we must remember what the impression is and the time period they are portraying. Not every soldier during the war was a cookie cutter and if we are going to be authentic we need to realize this. Do we want to teach the people that come out to events the truth about war or glorify it? We need to look at each impression individually and what the event is and see if they meet the authentic standards of the time. Also the impression should be looked at by the event staff if there are any questions about standards. We need to bring more people into the hobby not run them off at events. We need to govern but not dictate what an impression is. The one thing that will kill or hobby for getting new units and members is us being "stitch Nazi's".

This is my intent and main goals for being on the board of the HRS. My number one goal is to foster a sense of ownership among the members and give back to the hobby. We need to help smaller events as well as big events flourish. Support for all events should be unilateral and location or size should not be a factor. Every event in the HRS region should be treated equally and supported the same. It is about the hobby, the members, and the organization in that order. We should be here to give back to the hobby with whatever is needed to insure success at events.

Thank you for the time.

Dan Nichols (DNicholsBSA@Yahoo.COM)

Candidate for HRS Vice President

I am the one in the foreground

Greetings,

My name is Kirk Gustafson, and I would like the opportunity to serve you and the WWII Historical Re-enactment Society (HRS) in the position of Vice President. A little background information about me. I am 50 years old, married and have four grown children. My youngest, Logan, is currently in Basic Combat Training with the US Army Reserve. My wife and I moved recently from Nebraska where we both grew up, to Illinois. The move also precipitated me finding a new re-enacting unit that I could fall in with.

I have been reenacting since about 2002. Shortly after getting started with the 134th Infantry, 35th Division (Nebraska Soldiers), I became one of the charter members of the 23rd Infantry, 2nd Division. I held several leadership positions while a member of the 23rd Regiment.

One of the biggest changes I've had to adjust to since moving to Illinois and joining the 90th Division is the different nature of most events in the area. In the Great Plains (we called it the Midwest), most battles were private tactical events. Here in Illinois, most events I have been to, or heard about are public events, and tend to scripted. The events seem to be more numerous here, and the venues are typically very good, with varied terrain and road networks.

Over the years, I have seen a lot of changes in the HRS, and I think we are headed in a good direction. I know that it takes a lot of time and personal commitment to volunteer for a leadership position in this or any organization. I feel I am at a point in my life where I have the time and perspective to make that commitment. I would like to help the HRS continue to improve, and help direct the organization moving forward. Thank you, and best regards,

Kirk Gustafson

WW2 Days 2013

September 6-8

Dellwood Park, Lockport IL
Presented by: Lockport Community Park District
And 5.Kp Großdeutschland

World War 2 days in Lockport is returning for its third year after a great 2012 event. This year we will be even larger than last with the addition of many more activities and events both for the re-enactors and the public.

All ETO impressions are welcome, although this year will return our focus to the Western Front for the main field battles, with some smaller scale Eastern Front and Early War battles to take place as well.

Due to the huge popularity of this event in the local community, the Park District and the Event hosts have had the opportunity to add some new activities to the schedule.

New for 2013

The Park District has worked with the Experimental Aircraft Association to change the date of their annual fly in to Lewis University Airport to coincide with the WW2 Days event.

What does this mean? This means that the EAA's B-17 Aluminum Overcast will be doing fly overs, along with many other WW2 vintage aircraft. As part of the event the Park District will be offering a FREE shuttle service between the event at Dellwood Park and the airport, so you will be able to see both events! The EAA will be selling rides in the B-17, see the event website for details.

Watch this Video of a flight in the EAA's B-17 Aluminum Overcast
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vDhOYDKzqNI>

Also new for 2013 will be a charity 5k run for the Wounded Warrior Project on Thursday September 5th. This 5k will be followed by a live concert in the band shell for all participants and veterans. Registration and details will be on the event website.

Friday Evening the local Moose Lodge will be hosting a Spaghetti dinner for ALL re-enactors.

More activities are still being added, check the event website <http://www.lockportwwii.com> and Facebook page <https://www.facebook.com/groups/282323608542064/> for further details.

Returning for 2013

Just as the last 2 years the event will feature 2 main battles a day on a large battlefield with pre-constructed fortifications, foxholes, and buildings. We will also do a twilight battle on Saturday which will be a different theme than the main field battles. All battles will again include armor and heavy weaponry, this year 2nd Panzers Hetzer will be making its debut at this event. The Military Veterans Museum has been invited to bring there T-34-85 Tank.

We will be having a battlefield work day on August 29th to build buildings, emplacements, and fortifications, any help is appreciated.

The Park district is once again bussing in WW2 veterans and hopes for similar attendance as last year, with around 40 vets attending. It is a truly unique experience to visit the VIP tent with these veterans.

House rules were made up by event staff on request from Midway Village, these rules will be followed!

- All re-enactors will go through HRS Safety and Authenticity inspections along with spot checks in Living History Campsite by Event Staff and Military Police Units. Any discrepancies will be addressed and corrected immediately. Any Unit who cannot correct their FARB will be camping in the Modern Camping Area in re-enactor parking lot.

- All camps are assigned. Camps are pre-arranged prior to the event by contacting event staff. Returning units need to check in with event staff by Aug. 1 or risk losing their site. New units will be placed on a waiting list and assigned a camp as space is available. Units that leave prior to the end of the event on Sunday afternoon might have their camps reassigned the following year.

- Site-wide speed limit is 5 mph

- Please unload quickly and then move POVs out of the camp and village areas, otherwise the roads quickly jam up with parked cars.

- NO live ammo allowed, only blanks should be carried or in your possession

- All NFA laws and rules, as well as Illinois State Firearm laws will be enforced. If you live in the state of Illinois, you will have on you a FOID card, PERIOD!

- All class 3/NFA weapons will be checked for proper papers, ATF Form 3 and 4, and approved ATF Form 5320.20

WWII HISTORICAL RE-ENACTMENT SOCIETY Inc.

- 2300 (11:00pm) Quiet Time will be in effect, QUIET socializing will be permitted around campfires.
- No overnight vehicles permitted in campsite area.
- Haircuts will be to Military Standards. NO beards or hiding long hair under helmets or hats. Just come to the event with the proper haircut and facial hair.

- Your equipment, uniform, weapon, and vehicle should have been issued in WWII. Any item converted to look like WWII equipment will be judged by event staff, if it is not accepted then it must be removed.
- All tents should be WWII, reproduction or converted to very close resemblance of WWII tents. No 10-man arctic or post-war hexagonal tents allowed. WWII style GP small, mediums and larges are allowed, but space may limit where they can be placed.
- No Nazi Party/Political items will be worn, this also includes any other countries political items. No flying of German or Nazi Party/Political flags PERIOD.
- The public battles will be European Theater of Operations (ETO) from the 1944-45 period. However, any other WWII impressions are allowed, but will not be allowed in the main field battles, woods or village skirmishes unless prearranged (example – Soviet vs. Germans town battle).

- Re-enactors of the age of 16 & 17 years MUST HAVE a parent or guardian signed WWII HRS Minor's Waiver to participate as non-combatants. This waiver should be filled out before the event, contact the WWII HRS for information. Ages 16-17 can wear uniforms, but are not allowed to participate in any battles for in the firing of weapons. Only participants ages 18 and older can participate in the battles and fire live firearms.
- Semi-auto versions of full-auto versions, must look exactly alike and will not have longer barrels.
- Gas operated weapons should only be used in vehicles.
- M-1 carbines will not have the bayonet lug.
- During battles, no throwing of any pyro in/around any vehicles, armored vehicles or field guns (German PAK-40 AT-Gun or IG-18 Infantry Gun — These guns fire black powder charges, and may ignite fuel. Some vehicles have poorly sealed gas caps because they are 70 years old – others use propane gun systems)
- Fire pits in the village are allowed, but must be kept small and the grass replaced on Sunday.
- Digging positions in the woods camps will be allowed on a case by case basis by event staff – but ask first. As a rule, holes must be dug at least 5 feet from the edge of the road and cannot present a walking or driving hazard — positions that do not meet this rule will be filled in.

HOW TO ATTEND a Board Meeting:

Monthly teleconference Board meetings are open to all members. Members do not need to register for the meetings nor do they need to contact the president or any board members.

They need to contact their unit commander for the call information to include phone number and password. This creates less of a choke point and gets the information out to more with less hassle.

The monthly board meeting time/dates will change to accommodate the board members time schedules. Please contact your unit commander for more information regarding date, time, and log on information.

WWII HISTORICAL RE-ENACTMENT SOCIETY Inc.

About Us

The World War Two Historical Re-enactment Society is an organization of over 1200 men and women members from coast to coast, as well as Canada and Europe. Our mission is to bring the history of World War Two to life with public displays, simulated battles, participation in parades, and a variety of other community activities.

The society strives to honor and preserve the memory of those who served in World War Two, as well as preserve the artifacts of that period.

Our members carry out a wide range of historical impressions, including those of The United States, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, Poland, and Germany.

Our focus is entirely on the military history of World War Two. We have no sympathy for the ideology of Nazism or fascism. Such beliefs are not welcome here.

If this exciting and rewarding hobby appeals to you, please consider joining us. Our hobby is dependent upon the talents and enthusiasm of its members and there is always room for new interest! Please contact any of our board members today for more information.

A banner for Socket.NET. The background is a gradient of orange and yellow. In the top left corner, it says 'www.socket.net' and '1-800-SOCKET-3'. In the center, it says 'people connecting people' in a stylized font. Below that is the Socket.NET logo, which consists of a stylized 'S' and the word 'Socket'. Below the logo, it says 'VOICE • DATA • INTERNET'. In the bottom right corner, it says 'Internet Service Provider', '2703 Clark Ln, Columbia, MO.', and '(800) 762-5383'. There is also a small version of the Socket.NET logo and website address in the bottom left corner.

MEETING MINUTES

Board Meeting 27 JUNE 2013

ROLL CALL:

Position	Name	Present
President:	Jonathan Stevens	YES
Vice President:		Open
Treasurer:	Charles Gallagher	NO
Secretary:	Eddie Mayton	NO
Allied Representative:	Ron Kapustka	YES
Commonwealth Rep:	Bryce Seyko	YES
Axis Representative:	Doug Loge	YES
Newsletter Editors:	Jeff Skender	YES
Business Manager:	David Jameson	YES

HRS Members Present: Pollie Blanton, Dave Weakley, Alan Jones, Jim Schouten, Carlos Ramirez

Reading of the May, 2013 Minutes:

The May, 2013 meeting minutes were read by Jon Stevens. A motion was made by Ron Kapustka to approve the minutes as read, which was seconded by Doug Loge. A vote was taken and the Minutes were approved as read.

Old Business

Regional Event Funding Guidelines. This will be taken off the Agenda and revisited as needed.

New Business - Unit Charters

New Charters:

7th Infantry Division: Still working on their Charter. Should be done next month. Tabled until they are finished.

USO Camp Shows: Charter in the S&A Committee now. An Amendment was recently submitted and will be discussed.

Midwest Women's Historical Baseball League: Waiting for some information on their insurance issue. Once received, it will be forwarded to the S&A Committee.

3rd Panzergrenadiers Division: Chris Adams' Unit has five current HRS members. They are located in Central Missouri and believe that the US Unit, the Railsplitters in Mexico, MO, will be their "sister" Unit. Kansas City and St. Louis has more Units, but this Unit will be a centrally located Heer Unit. They expect to concentrate on the Italian front. Currently have a WW2 truck and a motorcycle. Have 4-5 additional potential members. Want to come up with an environment for new people who want to "try out" reenacting. Their Charter will be sent to the S&A Committee for consideration. Tabled for now.

Probationary Charters:

SS Gebirgsjaeger Rgt. 7: This Unit was considered by the S&A Committee which approved the Unit for consideration. Bryce Seyko made a motion to bring the Charter to a vote, which was seconded by Ron Kapustka. A vote was taken and the Charter was approved and accepted as a fully chartered Unit.

Defunct Charters:

American Red Cross Welfare Unit: Jon Stevens spoke with this Unit who advised they would be merging with another Unit and they asked that the Unit be removed from the website and the Unit Rolls which will be taken care of.

Treasurer Report: PNC Bank shows $47,924.05 in savings account and $3,896.72 in checking. The Wells Fargo account has $1,754.20 for a total of $53,574.97.

Secretary Report: Eddie Mayton was unable to attend, however, he provided information that the HRS currently has 725 members.

Commonwealth Report: Bryce reported on a large group of Commonwealth going to the Conneaut, OH event. Approximately 30 troops.

Allied Report: Nothing to Report.

Axis Report: Doug Loge reported on contact with some German Units which had lesser numbers of members about growing their Units to meet the minimum numbers of troops. He will continue to check on Units and their member numbers. Doug also brought up the Grant Proposal issue from last month and is withdrawing the Proposal at this time. He also reported on the four recognized "parent" groups and will provide that information in the next issue of The Edge.

Edge Report: The July Edge is nearly complete. Jeff needs a Treasurers Report to include and Jon suggested Jeff call Charlie direct. Jeff also needs the May Minutes and Jon will send them out to him. Doug will send Jeff some information for the July issue tonight.

Business Manager Report: David Jameson had submitted an Invoice for insurance to Jon for $206.00 for Additional Insured statements for two events. A discussion was held with regard to insurance for the baseball games and whether the HRS insurance will cover the baseball game and players. David reported that IF the members of the teams were HRS members, they would be covered, just like a member of any other HRS Unit at an HRS event.

Committee Reports:

S&A - The SS Unit was considered and they are working on the USO Charter and soon, the other Charters discussed above.

Unit Commanders - Membership forms sent out monthly.

Vehicle - HRS vehicle listing is being worked on. Jim discussed putting together an article for The Edge on etiquette while being around armor. Doug reported on three new revisions to the HRS Vehicle Rules.

Legislative Committee - Still working on forming the Committee.

Finance Committee - This Committee was proposed but there was no interest in forming it.

Vice President Special Election: Doug reported on the Special Election. It will be submitted in the July edition of The Edge.

New Issue (not on the Agenda) Jon brought up the issue of advertising (in The Edge) such as upcoming events and things, like is done in the Military Trader. Bryce asked if that would be up to the event organizer, whether the event should be added to The Edge. Pollie liked the idea about getting the word about events out to more people. A discussion was held regarding event advertising. HRS Scholarship. Jon reported that Two applications were received and the deadline is July 1st.

Open Comments:

Carlos Rameriz asked about funding for the porta-johns at the last year's event. It was discussed that it was not clear that the funding request had been approved by the Board. Carlos will do some research on the issue.

A motion to adjourn the Meeting was made by Bryce Seyko and seconded by Doug Loge. A vote was taken and the meeting was adjourned at 9:00pm.

From the Vehicle Committee:

Jim Schouten (HiawathaJim@Yahoo.Com)
90th Infantry Division

The following questions were developed and submitted by the WWII HRS S&A Vehicle Subcommittee to the S&A Committee for review and a vote.
The vote lasted for two weeks beginning May 25.

Should vehicle safety rule 8 be changed
From: "8. An onboard fire extinguisher is required."
To: "8. Each vehicle shall be equipped with a current, UL listed class BC fire extinguisher, rated for vehicular fires."
Result: Pass

New proposed Vehicle Safety Rule:
9. "Any vehicle on the battlefield may not back up without a spotter-ground guide behind the vehicle. It is recommended that this practice be implemented in camp also."
Result: Failed

New proposed vehicle safety rule:
10. "Batteries must be properly secured to the vehicle."
Result: Pass

New vehicle safety rule proposal:
11. "Maximum vehicle speed on the battlefield is 10 m.p.h."
Result: Pass

Re-enactors verses Historians

Recently the Internet has featured a back and forth conversation between Historians, Re-enactors and the general public over battle re-enactments. This is an old discussion that has taken place many times. Here is a summary of many conversations that are currently posted on the Internet.

The conversation stems from the question;

“Should BATTLE Re-enactments Be Abandoned?”

A few folks are questioning the role of Re-enactors. Some believe that battle re-enactments are unethical, turning war into a spectator sport, which is an improper mode of commemoration. Others question the historical interpretation Re-enactors provide. They claim the battles do not broaden the education of the public, and miss opportunities to teach a deeper understanding of the war as a whole. Of course these types of thoughts also seem to create a rift in the academic community. Historians who focus on military operations and politics see the viability in such education. Then question; Where does the public and their education fit into all of this? It is all rather confusing.

There are a couple of things to concentrate on: the relationship Re-enactors have with history and the public, and on the rift in Academic History. This is not an argument over who are the “gatekeepers of history.” Those words are thrown around often, claiming that the internet took the proverbial key of history out of the hands of historians. Before the internet humans used these data repositories called books, which one might find in libraries. Before that there were scrolls, so on and so on.

Historians have examined Re-enactors and their place in interpreting history. For the most part, there questions center primarily on how Re-enactors interpret the role of social issues in battles. One of the problems historians can’t seem to get around is the clear limitations that a battle reenactment has in these specific cases. It is one thing to be able to simulate some of the violent acts involved, but it seems the crucial component of understanding of why it happened and how it fits into a broader interpretation of the war as a whole is missing. Historians do not trust reenactors to be able to do this. Of course, there are exceptions, but there are too many examples of reenactors who have skirted the tough questions when raised.

Re-enactors can be a valuable resource for a couple of reasons. For starters, they wear period attire, carry period weapons, and simulate movements of a soldier. The touch, smell, and looks of those materials and actions are real. This kinetic stimulation is not something that can be accomplished in a book, historical document or picture/video.

Secondly, there are a lot of Re-enactors who read an awful lot of battle history and they can be a valuable resource to the public for information regarding the battles. That being said, Re-enactors also have a dark side. There is a bit of disagreement among Re-enactors about the portrayals of the past and how “period correct” one should be. This diverse group is split into three: Mainstreamers; Progressives; and Hardcore’s.

Mainstreamers are easy to spot by their jumbo tents. Usually their wives and children accompany them in camp. If you look inside their tents, you will find a plethora of “farby” equipment (cooler, cot, etc.) They see the Re-enactments as more of a hobby.

Progressives tend to be more authentic. Camping equipment, food, and other items are authentic. Usually they sleep on the ground. However, they usually have some modern equipment. You might find a cell phone hidden in the pockets, or Gold Bond Powder in the Knapsack. The goal is to present the outer appearance of authenticity, and to assume to role including the discomfort resorting to modern leisure on rare occasions.

Lastly there are the Hardcore’s. From the outer appearance down to the underwear, these guys are as authentic as they come.

The common ground between these groups, discounting the “FARB,” is on the battlefield.

So the question is what is the role of a Re-enactor?

Plainly stated, the role of a Re-enactor is to re-enact the past. They are re-enacting battles of the past. That is all. Historians seem to think that interpretation falls short, but the fact is that Re-enactors are not there to interpret. They are not there to discuss the social tensions of the War, or broaden the understanding of the War beyond that of visual simulations of appearance and battle. They provide, primarily, a military visual narrative of the war. That’s it. The role and function of a Re-enactor is limited to a narrow scope. In that respect historians are right when pointing out the clear limitations that a battle reenactment has in presenting the social issues of the period. However, the limited function of a re-enactment is appropriate and by design.

Some Re-enactors fancy themselves historians, on par with those that spend their lives studying and training in the field. Some Re-enactors tell the public that the war was not over xxxx. Re-enactors who engage in those discussions could harm the public and Re-enactors alike. In bulk, Re-enactors can provide precise simulations. As individuals, there are discrepancies in approach and narrative. Some events do counter this by providing guest speakers on certain topics.

One reason re-enactments are limited in scope by design has primarily to do with public education, especially in military operations, as pandering to a public appetite for gore. The public preference is important. Re-enactments are designed for the public interest. Battles are more than just entertainment though.

Most “armchair” historians do not read about the social relationships of the war. Their passions draw them to re-enact or to visit re-enactments.

It is a public interest situation. Re-enactors present visual stimulation of the past, as best they can and the public enjoys it. The reason this is so effective, and the reason battle re-enactments can reach tens of thousands of people a day, is because the public finds those things more exciting.

If you sat in a Chemistry class, you would find throwing sulfur in water extremely interesting because of the explosion. However, if the teacher began to describe the molecular make-up of sulfur and how it reacts to water you are going to get pretty bored. We can also say the same thing about Math. Most really do not care about any sort of Math other than what helps balance a checkbook.

Passions, or interests, draw people. This is the reason that battle re-enactments have more spectators than the number of students at many major universities. As far as limitations go, it’s an issue of perspective. Limited to what exactly and to whom? Maybe Re-enactors are pandering to the public, but at least they’re making contact rather than alienating.

Civilian reenactors have been left out. Not the ones who live in military camp, but those who camp apart to depict civilian life. Civilian reenactors spend a lot of time studying the culture of the day. The public can learn a lot from a period Civilian; who engage many visitors in discussions on race, politics, religion, economics, and life at home during the war. Leaving out Civilian Re-enactors was intentional. The criticism here is levied at Battle Re-enactments, so that is the one addressed.

Experience World War II with authentic airplanes, vehicles and re-enactments at the third annual 40s Forever: A Weekend To Remember event in Loveland, Colorado July 6th and 7th..

"I think it's a great thing. I flew in the Navy during World War II, and I've never flown in a military aircraft this large, so I'm looking forward to it," said Bob Brunson of Estes Park.

At the Fort Collins-Loveland Municipal Airport, 4824 Earhart Road, Loveland, visitors will tour WWII camps and see authentic warplanes. For a donation, visitors can enter the planes.

The weekend includes re-enacted battles of the invasion of Italy, a 1940s-style historical presentation and dance, and an honorary veteran's breakfast.

"On Friday in the morning, we'll be setting up the World War II camps. Around noon, the B-24 'Witchcraft' bomber, the B-17 'Nine O Nine' bomber and the P-51 Mustang 'Betty Lou' will be arriving," said Carlos Ramirez, who is in charge of the re-enactments and is a veteran himself.

The B-24 "Witchcraft" that will be on display first dropped bombs in France in 1944. And along with the P-51 Mustang, they are the only planes of their type still capable of flight, and for a donation, anyone can fly in them.

"Everything that is done at the show, including the food, is all done by donations," Ramirez said. He is commander of his unit that represents Audie Murphy's company, who was one of the most famous and highly decorated soldiers of World War II.

The camps and battles will have authentic and reproduced gear, weapons, radios, uniforms and supplies.

"We'll have German camps and American camps," Ramirez said. "There will be a re-enactment battle at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The event is called Operation Husky, which was the invasion of Italy that took place around this time-frame in July. "We're going to relive that battle with the Axis versus the Allies."

He and his unit are members of the Colorado chapter of the World War II Historical Reenactment Society as well as the western chapter of the Living History Reenactment Association. He said there are quite a few different reenactment groups that have come together to pull this show off for the veterans.

"We have a lot of members in our organization. Some of them live in Bailey, Fort Collins, Loveland, Milliken, Johnstown. They come from all over the whole state for this event," Ramirez said.

There will be a USO-style historical presentation and dance with live music at 6 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are $25 for adults, $20 for children and $10 for the dance only.

On Saturday morning, Honor Flight of Northern Colorado will present a reunion breakfast for veterans. Honor flight is a non-profit organization that was set up to transport veterans to Washington, D.C., to see their WWII memorial. "This 40s Forever event is an opportunity for us to have a reunion breakfast for any Honor Flight veteran. That is, any veteran that has flown with us to Washington, D.C., is invited to join us for breakfast and meet some of their buddies," said Lee Seward, vice president on the Northern Colorado Honor Flight board of officers.

He expects to serve 600 to 700 veterans with their guests for the breakfast. "The veterans enjoy it. It's a great opportunity for people to see some of the veterans from the era as well as some of the equipment and of course the reenactments," Seward said. "It's a chance to reconnect and for us to again say thank you to them."

The Honor Detail

On 29 June 2013, several members of the HRS participated in an Honor Detail for Concordia University's POPS Concert, on their River Forest, IL, Campus. The detail, in turn, saluted veterans of all eras, for all (5) branches of the service during the Concordia University Band's performance of "Armed Forces Salute".

The Honor Detail consisted of:

- Andrew Geisert, representing the US Army
- Chip Buerger, USCG
- Craig Dvorak, USMC
- Sean Loughran, USAAF
- George Harbinson, USN
